To know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God.”
(Ephesians 3:19)

Dear Friends in Christ,

Grace and peace to you in the name of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. We are so thankful for each of you — for your prayers, your encouragement, and your steadfast support as we continue to walk in the path the Lord has placed before us. Your partnership is a true blessing to our family and ministry.

Medical Update

This year has brought a busy schedule of medical visits — seventeen appointments so far — as we work with doctors to find clear answers about the neurological challenges I’ve been facing. I’m grateful for a dedicated medical team that continues to show wisdom, compassion, and a genuine desire to help. At this point, it looks like long-term therapy will be part of the plan to help improve my overall strength and quality of life moving forward.

We truly value your continued prayers as we seek the Lord’s wisdom in each decision. Your kindness and patience mean so much as we take this journey one step at a time.

Family Matters

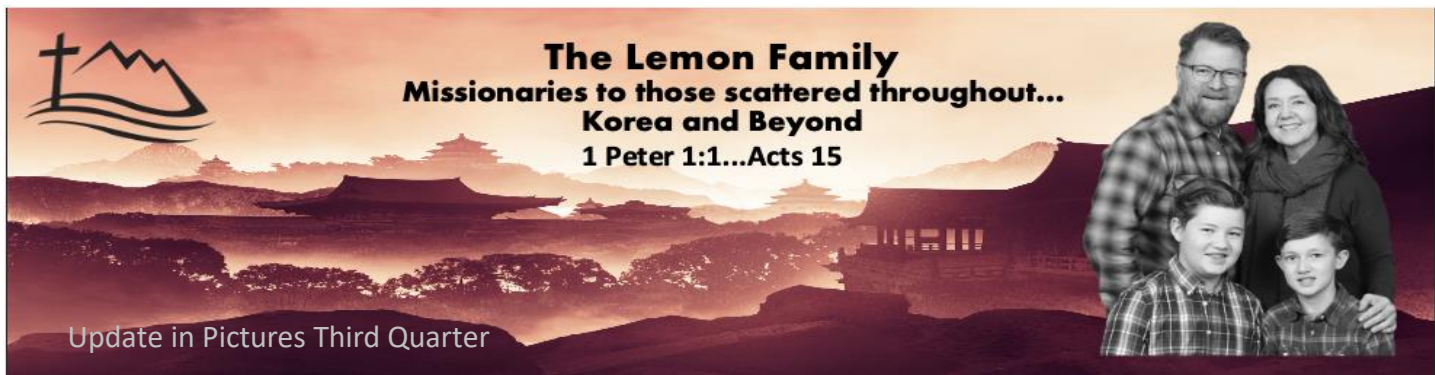

During this same season, our family has walked through a time of deep loss. My dad’s health declined rapidly after being diagnosed with stage-four cancer, and just three weeks later, he did pass away. We held his funeral the following week. Though this was not an easy time, we are grateful we were able to stay nearby and spend those final days together.

Because of these circumstances, we were unable to make our scheduled trip to Thailand and Cambodia. Many experienced missionaries have reminded us that moments like these are part of the life of ministry — and that taking time for family during such seasons is both wise and necessary. We’re thankful we heeded that counsel and were able to be present with loved ones when it mattered most.

At this time, we plan to return to the field in January, trusting the Lord’s timing and direction for the days ahead.

Through it all, God has been faithful. We continue to see His hand at work — strengthening, guiding, and providing peace that only He can give. Thank you for standing with us through your prayers, love, and support. You are a vital part of what God is doing, and we thank Him for you often.

Grateful to serve,
Joe Lemon and Family

Asian Mission Church Plant Update

When we first began working with Asian Mission Church, the congregation averaged around twenty people. In a short time, the Lord blessed their faithfulness, and attendance grew to forty and then to seventy. As the ministry expanded, they were able to procure a piece of land, and, as some of you may remember, one supporting church helped them build their first Sunday school building — which they quickly outgrew!

Early on, I encouraged them to prayerfully work toward building their own church facility, trusting the Lord to provide through their faithfulness. In time, they were able to construct a beautiful new building with very little American assistance. The congregation has worked diligently and sacrificially to fund much of the extended projects themselves, and they have done an outstanding job.

The building is now nearly complete, needing only a few finishing touches — including some basic amenities and a proper parking area. The red clay soil in that region makes getting to the church especially challenging.

If the Lord places it on your heart to help with the remaining needs — such as some final amenities or the parking lot — please let me know. I would be glad to share details on how you can be a part of supporting this growing church plant.
